

Dreadnoughtus

20 Cool Facts you never knew about The Dreadnoughtus

1. The Dreadnoughtus has a length of around 26 meters (about 85 feet) and a height of 9 meters (30ft)
- 2 It could weigh up to about 65 tons which is over 108000 lbs.
- 3 The length of the head and neck was over 40 feet (12.2 meters), the head was about 90cms, (3ft)
4. Dreadnoughtus was a plant-eating herbivore, it would have eaten leaves high up in the branches of trees.
5. Dreadnoughtus was discovered in rock formations in southern Patagonia, Argentina, around 77 million years ago,
6. Dreadnoughtus is likely to have laid eggs to reproduce! imagine how big those eggs would be!
7. About 70% of Dreadnoughtus skeleton has been found.

8. Dreadnoughtus names means “fears nothing” it is named after old strong battleships, and it was so big it would have feared nothing!
9. Dreadnoughtus lived in the same area as Argentinosaurus.
10. Dreadnoughtus was a plant-eating herbivore.
11. Dreadnoughtus had a 30-foot-long tail. With its huge mass and length, the tail was required to add balance to its neck.
12. Its tail was quite powerful and may have been used as a weapon.
13. Dreadnoughtus was the biggest, provable, terrestrial animal that ever existed, a genus of enormous sauropod ( long neck) dinosaurs
14. Dreadnoughtus was 9 meters (30 feet) tall and had and 11.3 meter (37ft) long neck.

15. It would have gone extinct around the same time as the rest of the dinosaurs.
16. One thing to note was that the fossil of Dreadnoughtus that was found was still growing, quickly as well, so it wasn't fully grown!
17. Dreadnoughtus lived about 70 million years ago.
18. Dr. Kenneth Lacovara, was the paleontologist who found the huge dinosaur.
19. Dreadnoughtus appeared in the new Jurassic World Dominion Movie,
- 20 . Dreadnoughtus is pretty easy to say for a dinosaur name It has just three syllables and is said like this Dred – Nor – tus.

